

The Faculty of Medicine at Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf invites applications for the permanent professorship position of a

Professor (W3 without management duties) in Tumor Pathology at the Department of Pathology (Chair: Prof. Dr. Irene Esposito).

The call is directed to board-certified pathologists with a broad clinical spectrum, didactic skills and outstanding scientific achievements. The professorship aims in particular at further developing molecular, translational and clinical-diagnostic tumor pathology.

Candidates must have an internationally recognised profile in cancer research as well as a proven track record in high-level publications and in the acquisition of third-party funding. A strong commitment to academic teaching is expected as well. The position is associated with the function of Deputy-Chair ("Ltd. Oberärztin/arzt") at the Institute of Pathology.

Application requirements include a Medical Doctor degree on experimental or translational/clinical topic, qualifications in teaching and research equivalent to German "Habilitation" with focus on experimental or diagnostic/surgical pathology, board certification for pathology and broad experience in histo- and molecular pathological diagnostics. International research experience, the successful acquisition of competitive third-party funding, publications in internationally recognized journals and experience in university teaching of general and anatomic pathology and in academic administration are also expected.

The appointee is expected to foster international research at Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf and contribute to its cooperative research projects (Collaborative Research Center 1116 "Master switches in cardiac ischemia"; Collaborative Research Center 1208 "Identity and dynamics of membrane systems – from molecules to cellular functions"; Collaborative Research Center Transregio 259 "Aortic Disease"; Manhot Graduate School "Molecules of infection"; Manhot research group „Decision making by means of methods of artificial intelligence“; Düsseldorf School of Oncology (DSO); International Research Training Groups IRTG 1902 „Intra- and Interorgan Communication of the Cardiovascular System“; Research Training Group 2576 "vivid - In vivo studies of the early development of type 2 diabetes"; Research Training Group „iBrain – Interdisciplinary Graduate School for Brain Research and Translational Neuroscience“; Center for Integrated Oncology (CIO-ABCD); German Consortium for translational Cancer Research (DKTK)). Cooperations with the Leibniz Research Institute for Environmental Medicine IUF, German Diabetes Center Düsseldorf DDZ and the Research Center Jülich are welcome.

Commitment in teaching activities in the Medical Faculty's University courses is required.

Experience in the management of departmental organizational units and in personnel management is welcome.

The university will employ professors with clinical duties on a private contract basis (privatrechtliches Dienstverhältnis) according to an agreement on objectives with the State Ministry of Innovation, Science and Research of Northrhine-Westfalia. Exceptions are possible in case the appointee holds already a tenured professorship (W2/W3, C2/C4). The university or the university hospital will not offer liquidation proceeds. The clinical duties of the professorship will be settled within a separate contract, a performance-linked salary will be granted.

Applicants will be hired in accordance with the general prerequisites pertaining to service law of section 36 of the North Rhine-Westphalia University Act (Hochschulgesetz NRW) which require an aptitude for teaching, exceptional competence in research, and additional scientific achievements.

Applications from women are expressly welcome. Women of equal aptitude, ability and professional competence will receive particular consideration, unless there are compelling reasons for choosing another applicant.

Heinrich Heine University lives the principle „excellence through diversity“. HHU has signed the “Charta der Vielfalt (diversity)” and successfully participated in the audit “Shaping Diversity” of the Stifterverband. HHU is certified as family-friendly and aims to promote its employees’ diversity.

Applications from suitably qualified severely disabled persons or disabled persons regarded as being of equal status according to Book IX of the German Social Legal Code (SGB – Sozial-Gesetzbuch) are encouraged.

At Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf, appointments may also be part-time, provided there are no overriding administrative reasons in individual cases for requiring full-time employment.
